IRONTON, MO.

THURSDAY, APRIL 13, 1893.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The REGISTER this week publishes the increases in valuation, made by the board last week.

The fruit trees all in full bloom, give the Valley the appearance of one large flower garden.

A great many fruit trees have been received in Ironton during the past two weeks. A good work; let it proceed.

Robt. Woody has been appointed as postmaster at Annapolis and last Monday received his commission. He is now in charge of the office.

From the quantity of blossoms on the trees, the yield of fruit promises to be very large. Unless we have a late frost it will be the largest crop in years.

Rev. W. L. Boyer, of Marshall, Mo., will deliver an address at the Baptist church this (Wednesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. Subject: "Home Missions."

FOR SALE—A lot of milch cows with young calves. Also a large lot of farming implements. Very cheap, apply at once to Mrs. E. J. Langdon, Russellville.

Arbor Day was observed by the public schools last Friday. The pupils were given half a holiday and made preparations for setting out about one dozen more trees.

Several days last week were positively hot and the nights sultry and uncomfortable. A change came Saturday, though, and overcoats and wraps were in demand on Sunday.

The I. O. O. F. at Annapolis, give an entertainment on Friday, April 21st. Read the program in full elsewhere. The object is a worthy one, and the entertainment will be first-class.

Jas. Kinnard of Carter county, who has been in jail here for a year past on the charge of murder, had his trial at Van Buren last week, and the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

After raining more or less all day Sunday, the water came down in torrents Sunday night, and for awhile it appeared very much as if we were going to have a repetition of one of the floods of last spring.

DIED—At the residence of her mother, Mrs. L. A. Hunt, 1033 N. Leffingwell Ave., St. Louis Mo., Thursday evening, April 8th, 1893, Mrs. Birdie Leonard, aged 26 years, of Consumption. Interment at Victoria, April 8th.

The entertainment, "Chestnuts by Chestnuts," at the Academy of Music last Thursday night was largely attended. The supply of refreshments was short and soon gave out but notwithstanding about the receipts netted about $45.

Andrew Cooley, the negro charged with assaulting Jennie Albert on the streets a couple weeks since, was tried before Justice Ake last Thursday and fined $20 and costs. He will remain in jail thirty days in default of sufficient money to pay his fine.

Hon. J. H. Winingham, prosecuting attorney of Howell county and brother-in-law of Mr. Paul Patton, of this city, died at Hot Springs, Arkansas, Monday, Mr. W. was an able young man, and was well known throughout Southeast Missouri.

Jake Lopez desires to inform the ladies, one and all, that they are receiving all the newest facts and latest novelties in millinery. An experienced and artistic trimmer from St. Louis is in charge and those of the fair sex who wish "first pick" should call early.

The annual election by the stockholders of the Academy of Music was held Monday, April 5th. T. R. Goulding, A. Roebry, F. Rodach, W. T. Gay and E. D. Ake were chosen directors for the ensuing year. A dividend of three per cent. was declared on the stock.

DIED—At his residence, Ironton, Mo., on Sunday, April 9th, 1893, at 9:30 o'clock A. M., PIERRE CROZAT, aged 74 years, 2 months and 2 days. The funeral took place Monday, 10th, at 2 o'clock P. M., and a large cortege accompanied the body to the grave. A fitting tribute to the memory of the deceased will be given next week.

Joe Kerchner re-opened his saloon at Ghermanville last Saturday night, with a grand blow-out. The boys had a general good time, and the sport went merrily on till late in the night. Joe intends to keep the best brands of whiskey, wine and cigars, together with a liberal supply of Gambirinus' foaming beverage. He invites his friends and the public generally to call, insuring them courteous treatment, and everything strictly as represented.

The upper floor of Baldwin Bros. hub factory gave way last Friday morning and fell to the earth with a crash. About thirty thousand pounds in hubs were stored up there and the weight proved too much. The accident occurred about six o'clock in the morning and luckily no one was in the apartment below. The pulleys and shafts geared in the ceiling of course fell to the floor but the machinery was in no wise injured. The damage was repaired and everything ready for work again by Saturday.

Many people of this vicinity will remember Big Eagle, who was here with Dr. Spotted Wolf's famous Indian Medicine Company about a year and a half since. The following from a late issue of the Sparta, Ill., Plaindealer will be of interest, "Big Eagle, the Kickapoo Indian, who a short time since was married to a Baldwin girl, got into a dispute with Cyrus Stubblefield at Baldwin on Wednesday night. The Indian is a bad one, it is supposed, and a knife with which it is supposed he meant to reach for Stubblefield's scalp. The latter, however, drew his revolver and fired, wounding the Indian badly."

Old papers for sale at this office. Twenty-five cents per hundred.

Will Brill and Dave Stout, two young hoodlums from the north end, who have more than once attracted public attention as offenders of the law, forced an entrance into the depot warehouse last Thursday night, and stole eight bottles of wine; the robbery was not discovered until next morning. Suspicion was at once fastened on these two boys and a little investigation revealed that they were the offenders. Four bottles of the wine were also recovered. The boys were placed in jail, had their preliminary Friday, and were bound over to await the action of the grand jury. Were it not for the youth of the accused, they would certainly stand a good show for the penitentiary.

Jas. G. Austin, who lives on the Marble creek road five miles from here, had the misfortune to lose his barn and contents by fire last Friday night. There were in the barn seven head of horses, 150 bushels of corn and ten tons of hay, all a total loss. The fire occurred shortly after eight o'clock in the evening, but Mr. Austin had retired for the night, and was not discovered until it was impossible to save anything from the flames. It is thought that the conflagration was the work of an incendiary for there had been no fire about the premises all day. The loss is a large one and Mr. Austin has the sympathy of the entire community in his misfortune. The insurance was $100.

The sad news of the death of Mrs. Geo. H. Crumb, at Poplar Bluff on Tuesday last week, was received here by the many friends of the deceased and her husband with sincere regret. Mrs. C. resided in the Valley for several years ere she took upon herself the duties of a wife, and was a general favorite with young and old. Afterwards, she again, during Mr. Crumb's four years' incumbency of the Land Office, resumed her residence here. It was during this period that the bereavement of the family of the writer occurred, and Mrs. C.'s many acts of kindness in that time of trial will dwell with us while memory lasts. To the afflicted husband and helpless little ones left to mourn the loss of wife and mother, our tenderest sympathies extend.

The sudden death of Mrs. Sallie May Crumb, wife of Geo. H. Crumb, which occurred at her residence in this city on Tuesday, has cast a gloom over the entire community. Mrs. Crumb was an estimable lady, popular and well known through this section where she had hosts of warm friends. She was stricken down with a congestive chill on Friday which developed into cerebral meningitis. Immediately after the attack Mr. Crumb was sent for, arriving on Saturday evening. Deceased leaves a husband, and two small children, who are just the age to need the tender care of a mother. The immediate family and the many relatives and friends of deceased have the sympathy of the entire community in their great bereavement. The funeral services will be held from the Presbyterian church on Thursday at 1:30 o'clock. Mr. Bohannon, assisted by the pastors of the other churches will officiate.—Poplar Bluff Citizen.

John Timlin, who has several times within the past few years been incarcerated in the asylum at Fulton, arrived in town Sunday and proceeded to let the fact be known that he was here. All day he walked up and down the street, attracting public attention and making himself a general nuisance. Along, late, in the afternoon, he wended his way into the Oliver House, frightened the servants, grabbed a bundle of papers and started out on the street. Sheriff Fisher and Marshal Baldwin then arrived and took him to the jail where he still languishes. About two months ago a jury was empaneled in the Probate Court for inquiring into Timlin's sanity, and see whether he was competent to take charge of a pension granted him two years since. The jury declared he was sane. Timlin was given the money, and since then he has been having a high old time. Now he is a fit subject for the asylum, out of money, and it looks like the county will have to pay his way.

Specimen Cases.
S. H. Clifford, New Cassell, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him. Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by P. R. Crisp's Drug Store.

Graniteville News.
Ed. Register—Died—A little babe of Mrs. Mary Kemble on Friday last, four months. The remains of the little one were taken to Middlebrook cemetery for burial, on Saturday afternoon.

Charles Ferguson is building a tenement house on the lot adjoining his residence, in Ghermanville. Messrs. Coxie and Valle, of Bellevue, are the contractors. These gentlemen also have the contract, and now in course of construction, Mr. Daniel O'Brien's house, both of which are now progressing rapidly.

Mr. Alex Leith, of St. Louis, is down shaking hands with old time friends in town. George Donald spent several days last week in the city.

James D. Greason has purchased the John Lindsay house; consideration, $350. Mrs. Lindsay and children will move shortly to St. Louis, where they intend making their home for the future. Mr. L., however, has been working in the city, the past four months, in the capacity of house builder and setter for the Schneider Granite Company.

Adam Runge, our new barber, has also moved his family to this place. W. A. Cloud, a whilom resident of of this bailiwick, but now one of Farmington's enterprising business men, came over to see old time friends one day last week.

Joe Kerchner has had his saloon treated to a new coat of paint, and otherwise decorated in elaborate style, and has re-opened for business again. Now our neighboring village has three saloons, three mercantile houses, two livery stables, one undertaker's establishment, (or at least the sign) one real estate agent, one shoe shop, two retired capitalists, one well boring and prospecting company and three aspiring postmasters. If the above does not show that Ghermanville is an enterprising and go-ahead sort of a city, then we fail to know what constitutes a business town in an ordinary term.

John Asher has bought from Michael Seitz, twelve acres of land joining on the south side of George Whitman's farm, for $450. Still the real estate and building boom goeth on.

Rev. O. W. Rose, agent for the Epworth Piano and Organ Company, sold an organ to Mr. Chas. Kendall, Ironton, one day last week.

Mrs. Hardaway, of Washington, D. C., who has been visiting Mrs. T. F. Walsh, for some time, left Sunday for New York city, accompanied as far as St. Louis by Mr. and Mrs. Walsh.

Some twelve or fifteen of our young people attended the A. O. U. W. ball at Iron Mountain, on Saturday night last, and report a big crowd and good time.

Miss July Thomson, of St. Louis, visited in town last week, the guest of Mrs. E. M. Smith.

Mr. Louis Brennecke, of Ironton, spent Sunday with the family of Mr. Robt. Trauericht.

As yet, business in this immediate vicinity is going very easy, but still looking forward for brighter days.

Mr. E. M. Smith is having the interior of his residence repainted by the artistic hands of one of Ironton's famous painters, Mr. Thos. Pruitt.

At our school election, Mr. Jesse Hale was elected for the three year term, and George Evans to fill the unexpired term of one year, vice Jno. Lindsay resigned. After the business was transacted, the new board met and qualified with Mr. Hale as president, Jasper Orrick, clerk of the board.

The board also selected one principle for the next term, and Miss Annie E. Osterlie was chosen for the primary department, by a unanimous vote on both occasions.

April 10, 1893.

Little Judith, the eight year old daughter of Mr. Mullineaux, of the Indiana Christian Advocate, Des Moines, Iowa, on learning that her special playmate, a child of her own age had taken the whooping cough, took a bottle of medicine, which had cured her of troublesome cough, and went over and said: "You must take this medicine; it will do you good." Mr. Mullineaux was curious as to the result, and on making inquiry learned that the little neighbor, who had been unable to rest at night, had been greatly relieved in that respect. The paroxysms were neither so frequent, severe or enduring. The cough, under the genial action of this admirable remedy, was loosened. The medicine liquefies the mucus and enables the sufferer to throw it off. The attack in the beginning gave every evidence of being a severe attack of whooping cough. Indeed it was a genuine case; but this preparation, while perhaps it may not be a positive cure for the disease, is undoubtedly able to alleviate it. If it does not cure it, it will give unquestioned relief. The medicine referred to is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by P. R. Crisp, druggist.

Iron County F. & L. U.

Will meet at the courthouse, Ironton, on Friday, April 14th, 1893, at 2 o'clock P. M. All members are cordially invited to attend.

J. B. HAMPTON, President.
J. B. HOLLOMAN, Sec'y.

Annapolis Doings.

Ed. Register—The Odd Fellows of this place are going to give an entertainment one week from next Friday evening, at eight o'clock. The proceeds to be devoted to the charity fund. Three good plays have been chosen, and will be well performed. Some music and a few recitations will also go in to make up a good entertainment, and as the proceeds are to be devoted to charity, we hope all who are charitably inclined will attend, for here, they will have a chance to do a good act and still, at the same time, receive the full worth of their money.

Dr. May, who had got able to go about town, was taken suddenly sick Thursday night, but is at present, slowly recovering.

Dr. Strong, of Ironton, was in town Friday, to see a little child of Jesse McGlothlin; the child is improving.

Judge Hart, who was reported very sick in St. Louis, returned home last week and seemed much improved in health.

Frank Rearick is said to have had a narrow escape from being bitten by a large dog, belonging to D. A. Johnson. So narrow was the escape that the dog is said to have sadly mangled the bosom of the boy's trousers.

Jas. Reed, who lives near Vulcan, had his house and almost all its contents burned last night. The property was insured, but the policy was destroyed with the other contents of the dwelling.

moved to give Sabula six months school, which was promptly voted down. Whereupon Mr. Russell tendered his resignation as a member of the school board. After some discussion and considerable wrangling, it was decided to have a six months school at Annapolis with two teachers. This short term being necessary on account of the low state of district finances. Six months of school was then voted to Sabula, without a dissenting vote, and Mr. Russell was asked by a unanimous vote to withdraw his resignation, but did not do so, and Jas. Nelson was appointed by the other members of the board Saturday to fill the vacancy. J. W. Alcorn received a majority vote of the meeting for road overseer. A. P. Vance received all but three of the votes for County School Commissioner, and those three votes were cast for local residents out of sport.

April 9th, 1893.

From Bellevue.

Rev. L. L. Pennell is holding a revival meeting at Belgrade.

Lewis Morris and Miss Laura Hawkins were married by Eugene Logan last Thursday.

Mrs. D. G. Bleakley will spend the summer in St. Louis county.

Mrs. H. R. Dausman is visiting Mrs. Lay.

Miss Dora VanNort will attend the training school and institute at Ironton.

At our school meeting, they voted an increase of school tax, so we will have an eight months term. This is a good move, as our district has a large number of scholars, and only a four or five months public school.

Our foot bridge has gone down. We hope the county court will build us a new one, as it is not very pleasant to cross on the rocks or wade the creek to get our mail.

George and Jim Phillips who have been attending the Normal at Cape Girardeau, are at home to assist on the farm.

John Ruddleck has employment on Schneider's railroad.

Mrs. Will Bell has been quite sick with measles.

Miss Maud Harrall has a position in St. Louis.

Jim Black and family have moved in Henry Valle's farm. BELLEVUE.

One might as well try to stem the rapids of Niagara, as to expect perfect health while a Scrofulous taint exists in the blood. There is an alternative and purifying properties, Ayer's Sarsaparilla removes every vestige of Scrofulous poison from the blood.

From Clones.

Ed. Register—Since winter has done his do, farmers out here have been putting in pretty good time sowing oats, plowing for corn, etc.

Peach trees are now in full bloom, and one is safe in saying we shall have a large crop of that delicious fruit this season.

On Sunday last the writer visited Mr. W. H. Shy, Black, Mo., who has been in a bad state of health for some time past, with a very complicated disease. But since he is under treatment of Dr. Minor, Lesterville, and some of the most skilled practitioners of St. Louis, it is highly probable that he may yet fully regain his former health and vigor.

Mr. Edison, Bellevue, has purchased a farm at Edge Hill, and will remove thither just as soon as he can have a dwelling house erected on said land. Mr. Edison is a man of considerable capital, and will be a great help to that vicinity, financially and otherwise.

The fact is, Edge Hill is now experiencing a boom, being surrounded with intelligent people who have brains as well as well as capital. It has two stores, each of which is doing a thriving business. H. Waldner has been engaged in business at that place for nearly two years, having lost fully 25 per cent. of his entire stock of goods by the flood last May, but yet he continues to prosper, financially, and says he proposes to "stand the storm" for a few more years, at least. The Eaton Brothers' establishment is of recent date, and judging from what I know of the members of said firm as reliable, honest men, I, of course, predict for them a very successful business career.

Ere this communication reaches you, Prof. A. P. Vance, Ironton, will have been re-elected Commissioner of Schools. Prof. V. has, no doubt, done more for the schools and teachers of Ironton county than any other man who has been at the helm. Having graduated in an Illinois college when a mere boy, and having eighteen years' experience in teaching, he has such a clear conception of what it takes to constitute a teacher, that he has never been known to grant a license to one who afterwards proved incompetent, measured by those who have sufficient intelligence to judge a teacher's character. As I view the matter, the Eaton Commissioner is a mirror from which we may see the future standing of the county's intelligence. But the poor teacher who stands trembling before his class, trying to bring to bear upon the minds of his pupils, facts and ideas that may help to shape their characters and make good citizens of them, is only a factor, and though he be subject to insult and abuse, he has at least the consolation that his labors, though now dormant, will in future blossom. Force cannot be destroyed, and will have its effect. The application of an idea to the mind of a child is a force, and whether good or bad will have an effect; eternity alone may be able to record that effect. But notwithstanding such is the case, the half-paid, much-abused teacher is responsible for the result.

to Oklahoma, ostensibly to find a proper place to locate. Mr. J. is one of Centreville's most successful lawyers.

Redmont Black, Lesterville, has also gone to Washington, where he proposes, it is said, to make his future home.

Mrs. Mahala Bell, of Black, died on the 29th ultimo.

J. S. Eaton has been appointed postmaster at Edge Hill, vice D. Latham, resigned.

Miss Vina Hawk has returned home, after an extended visit to Bill's Creek. April 3, 1893.

For lame back there is nothing better than to saturate a flannel cloth with Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and bind it on the affected parts. Try it and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. The same treatment will cure rheumatism. For sale by P. R. Crisp, druggist.

In Memoriam.

In memoriam felix, AMY CAROLINA, the well-beloved daughter of Herman and Hattie O. Davis, of Ironton, Mo. After rather a protracted illness, she fell asleep late in the evening of Tuesday, March 28th, 1893, aged 22 years, 7 months and 6 days.

The funeral services of this dear young lady, were held at St. Paul's Church, thence she was taken to her long, quiet, resting place, followed by a very large concourse of sympathizing friends and sorrowing relations. Thus ended the charming and beautiful life of this amiable young Christian. Of her it may be truly said, "Her sun went down while it was yet day."

Through the careful, Christian attention of her loving parents, she received Holy Baptism on the 29th day of August, 1875, and was thereby engrained into the body of Christ's Church and became a lively member of the same. Such was the comparatively early beginning of the religious years of our deceased young sister and friend. She was very tenderly and carefully trained up by her devoted mother, who is now left in great sorrow to bewail the loss of such a dear and affectionate child.

The last few years of the short life of this amiable young Christian, may be said to have been only interrupted seasons of much suffering, but still they were not altogether, without some hopes of victory over the heartless destroyer, ultimately. These hopes were dearly cherished as long as a spark could be found in the longed breast, to revive and encourage them.

Hers was a pure and very beautiful life, and though sadly weary and worn at the last, she still retained her cheerful and amiable disposition, and in a manner eminently worthy of all our emulation. The religious features of her youthful life, even at the last moment, were not, in the sense of some, demonstrative; but were eminently calm, sweet, consoling, and reliant. The struggle for a longer extension of life, gave to all her friends, indications of a strong and pure heart; but when the inevitable moment had come, the surrender was that of a true soldier and noble heroine.

Some of the last scenes of the sufferings of this gentle one, will long remain impressed upon our hearts, as among the most useful lessons of instruction, and the tenderest of reminiscences.

Notwithstanding the fierce and oft-repeated efforts of the earth's great destroyer, to deface the natural attractions and beauty of this now lost jewel, yet, as she lay in the beautiful casket of death, there remained a sweetness of expression, and a loveliness in reality depicted, that will be treasured up in the hearts and stamped deep in the sweetest memories of all, but especially her now bereft family, who have looked for the last time upon that serene and peaceful countenance.

"But now she is safe in heaven, sweet dove; safe in the bosom of infinite love the Everlasting One."
